Britain's Fuel Crisis May Not End With Thaw

LONDON (CP) — As the government's order depriving a large part of Britain of electricity for five hours each day went into effect, Prime Minister Attlee said in the Commons today he could not forecast how long the coal and power crisis would remain.

The Prime Minister's statement indicated domestic consumers in 38 of 64 English and Welsh counties might have to continue the power conservation scheme for much of the winter for he told members the first step, once coal stocks at power stations are restored, would be to restore power for industry.

Meanwhile, as both government and opposition leaders in the Commons appealed for co-operation in making the conservation order work, hundreds of great factories lay idle, their coal bins empty and their workers lining up at labor exchanges or remaining at home.

STARTED AT 9 A.M.

In homes and offices, the three-hour cut-off went into effect at 9 a.m., sometimes on a voluntary basis, sometimes by cutting off the mains. In London's Battersea power station the great generators' output went down to 100,000 kilowatts an hour compared with a normal 235,000.

The cutoff order was effective again this afternoon for two hours.

Government workers in Whitehall pored over machines and a service was halted and at 10 Downing Street no lights were visible.

A tour of London's bustling financial district presented a picture. Traffic lights were not operating and bank and brokerage house clerks in most buildings were barely visible behind their desks. In one area of 10 blocks only two electric lights were seen burning — both in drugstores.

In the West End, Piccadilly Circus was a patchwork of light and shade. One department store was brightly lit although elevators and much upper floor illumination were switched off.

In the Park Lane district, supplies were not cut off, but big hotels voluntarily switched to a "dimout."

In Canada House feeble candles attempted to light the high entrance hall and workers had candles on their desks. Norman Robertson, the Canadian High Commissioner, worked in an upstairs room with large windows and did not need lights during the cutoff period.

Meantime, the thaw was reported spreading which may extricate the United Kingdom — and the government — from a predicament into which they were thrust by a lengthy severe cold spell and what opposition spokesmen call unparalleled mismanagement of coal distribution.

The weatherman, however, was hesitant to prophesy whether the milder weather, creeping northward, would last. The weather bureau said the cold might return within two days.

DANGER OF FLOODS
A too speedy thaw might prove a mixed blessing, merely substituting floods for snowdrifts and doing little to alleviate immediately the transportation dislocations which plagued Britain the last three weeks of the worst winter in 50 years.

Prime Minister Attlee is expected to make a statement later today on the electricity cuts following the cabinet's evaluation of the effectiveness of the first day's power shutdown.

Unofficial estimates of those unemployed by the cut are running as high as 6,000,000, while the home routine of about 22,000,000 Britons were disrupted. The Fuel Ministry warned that present restrictions left little margin for safety and only the co-operation of the whole country would enable essential service to be maintained.

In some centres, notably Manchester, Birmingham, Liverpool, and Coventry, municipal officials had not cut off the supply of non-essential industries as the original plan had called for. The officials maintained the Fuel Ministry plan was impracticable. Despite rising temperatures in the south, snow still was falling in parts of Scotland today and heavy snowfalls were reported in Eire. Northern Ireland, not in the cutoff zone, may experience current cuts later. London officials, with only enough coal on hand to last to Friday, said "something drastic" might prove necessary to avert "major disaster."

MOSCOW (AP) — An official announcement said this afternoon Prime Minister Stalin was re-nominated unanimously to the Supreme Soviet of the Russian Soviet Federal Socialist Republic, the largest in the Soviet Union. The announcement said the results of Sunday's elections for the Supreme Soviet (parliament) in seven of the all-union republics and in the 15 autonomous republics were sweeping approval of present government leaders.

4 Firemen Hurt

Italy, 4 Other Countries Shorn Of Power, Cash By Peace Pacts

PARIS (AP) — Italy and four other countries today signed peace pacts which sheared all of treasure and armed power and take territory from all except Bulgaria.

The Italian accord, reducing the fledgling republic to a third-rate power, had swift and violent repercussions back home.

A British brigadier was killed in Pola, a naval base ceded under the treaty to Yugoslavia, which signed the pact after months of assertions that she would not do so without title to Trieste.

Angry throngs jeered at the U.S., Russian and British embassies in Rome and at the home of the Constituent Assembly, which must ratify the treaty.

The Romanian, Bulgarian, Hungarian and Finnish treaties were signed during an afternoon session in the clock room of the French Foreign Ministry. The United States was a party to all but the Finnish treaty. In all

British Brigadier Shot To Death At Pola As Italians Evacuate

ROME (CP) — An unidentified woman today shot and killed a British brigadier in Pola, even as angry Italians withdrew from the Adriatic port which is awarded to Yugoslavia in the Italian peace treaty signed today in Paris.

The woman was arrested. Details were lacking on the shooting. A brief official announcement said only that Brig. R. M. W. de Winton, commanding the British 13th Infantry Brigade at Pola, was "shot and killed there by a woman."

The announcement came as 28,000 of the 33,000 Italians in Pola started an exodus from the port rather than remain under Yugoslav rule.

EMBASSIES GUARDED
In Rome itself, Italian police and troops stood with machine-guns and rifles in increased strength before the British and United States embassies as crowds angered by the peace treaty demonstrated before the Yugoslav legation.

Demonstrators shouted that the flag be torn down. Some hammered against a legation door and a Yugoslav soldier guard fired a burst through the door with an automatic rifle.

Police asked that the Yugoslav flag be taken down because "it was dangerous to fly it," but the request was refused.

Throughout Italy workers folded their arms and stood silently. Merchants relied on the

Jewish Agency Again To Refuse Help To British

JERUSALEM (AP) — The Jewish Agency and the Jewish National Council (Vaad Leumi) rejected today a government request for co-operation with the police and the British army in combating terrorism.

They expressed the conviction the government's policy was precipitating "consequences that may well be incalculable" and proposed that "evil" be remedied by a "constructive political settlement."

The rejections came less than a day after the British authorities had deported from Haifa 654 Jews caught trying to enter Palestine without permits.

Britain a week ago gave the Jewish Agency, its adviser in the government of Palestine, and the Jewish National Council, administering Jewish affairs, until tomorrow to answer the request for co-operation. The council already had turned down the request.

The unauthorized Jewish immigrants Sunday were taken off the 350-ton schooner Merica of Naples — renamed by them La Negev ("To the South") — and put on the British transport Empire Heywood at Haifa, presumably to be sent to internment on Cyprus.

JEW WOUNDED

One Jew was reported shot in the leg and several others wounded in a fight at sea with a boarding party of 100 British sailors. A British official here said the immigrants, most of them young and many of them women and girls, threw bottles and iron bars and the sailors used

However, airborne armory men carrying only pickaxes had no trouble getting them aboard the Empire Heywood once they had been brought to Haifa.

Advices from Haifa said the Empire Heywood departed at midnight Sunday.

Cakes, Pies, Rolls Up 10% In Price

During the past week prices of all bakery products with the exception of bread rose 10 per cent in Victoria, it was learned today from a spokesman of city bakeries.

Emphasis was placed on the fact that bread prices are remaining the same, so that even if the harried housewife can no longer afford bakery-made cakes and pies for family desserts she can still make bread puddings so long as the children will eat them.

Early in February the Wartime Prices and Trade Board authorized the 10 per cent increases on cakes, pies, pastries and rolls.

Firebug Confesses

BUTLER, Pa. (AP) — A brickyard worker who asserted that under a full moon he experienced an uncontrollable urge to start fires, to wreck trains, admitted in signed statements a series of deprecations which caused about $100,000 damage, police reported today. They said he was Paul Vild, 31, of Butler Junction, near Freeport, Pa.

Len And Tommy Stark Victims Of Skiff Sinking

Two Victoria brothers, one of them a champion swimmer, drowned in ice-coated St. Mary's Lake on Salt Spring Island Saturday evening while a third brother made a futile attempt to save them.

Victims were: Leonard Howe Stark, 27 years, and Thomas Perry Stark, 14 years.

The third brother, David, 19 years, reached the scene too late to save Len and Tommy.

The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Howe Stark, 1153 Fort Street. The father is a piano tuner. The family also operates an antique and secondhand store, The Bazaar, 857 Fort Street.

The two boys drowned when ice on the lake cut the bow of an eight-foot skiff in which they were rowing.

They tried frantically to bail out the water which flooded into the boat, but could not keep up with the flow, having only a small bailing can on board.

David, who had been for a walk with the mother and father, returned in time to see Len holding young Tommy beside the submerged skiff, and calling for help.

David ran to a house nearby and got a boat, but the two boys had disappeared below the surface by the time he was able to reach the sunken skiff.

Details of the drowning were given by Skipper (Corporal) Earl W. Lockwood of the B.C. police detachment at Ganges, who was on duty at the time. Head and a resident of St. Mary's Lake, James Warner, conducted dragging operations for the bodies all day Sunday, and were continuing their efforts today.

The boys were between 500 and 600 yards off shore when the ice, about one-half to three-quarters of an inch thick, cut the boat. The water at this point is approximately 35 feet deep.

The family had gone to the lake for a few days holiday, and also to inspect some property on the lakeshore which they had purchased recently. They were staying with their married daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kingdom. Four other children in the family, two sons and two daughters, had

Grief-stricken by the tragedy, the father today recounted how he had bought the skiff in which the boys were rowing at an auction sale here recently.

"We had it shipped up there Saturday," he said. "We planned to have it there for the summer." He said he and his wife and David had gone for a walk in the woods leaving Len and Tommy behind.

Since his return to civilian life, he had been working with his father, learning the piano tuning trade.

Little Tommy, who was taught to swim by McKinnon at the Y.M.C.A., was in the eighth grade at Central Junior High School.

1946 Forest Output For Province Sets All-Time Record In Value

British Columbia's timber output in 1946 totaled 2,964,975,707 F.B.M., failing to reach the early war years' record output in volume but set an all-time record in value.

Statistics released by the B.C. Forest Branch of the lands and forests department showed that beside the F.B.M. total 69,049,010 lineal feet of poles, 158,217 cords of fuel wood and 503,704 hevn ties.

Output in 1945 totaled 2,926,320,824 F.B.M., 35,108,264 lineal feet of poles, 123,243 cords of wood and 534,171 hevn ties.

While output in 1946 was curbed by a more than month-long strike of woodworkers, no major closures for forest fire hazard were effected.

In December in the Vancouver forest district which includes all Vancouver Island the output was 156,073,225 F.B.M., 630,915 lineal feet, 5,582 cords of fuel wood and 1,737 hevn ties. This represented a loss from December, 1945, while the totals were 171,889,660 F.B.M., 713,156 lineal feet, 1,236 cords and 1,010 hevn ties. The Vancouver forest district is the largest producing area.

BRENTWOOD—Extensive alterations to Brentwood Lodge here is planned by Capt. D. H. McKay, who purchased the lodge after being discharged from the Royal Canadian Navy last year. Plans to alter the building are now being prepared by D. D. Moore, architect, with Fred Morris as contractor.

Capt. McKay plans to have a new public entrance, extension of the lounge, three downstairs bedrooms, each with private bath, and a public washroom for transient guests. The kitchen is to be entirely remodeled and modernized, while the dining room will be redecorated and lighted to conform with modern ideas.

Five new duplex cottages will be built on the waterfront property at the bottom of Verdier Avenue. Each unit will contain a sitting room, with built-in davenport couch, bedroom and bathroom.

The hunter investigated the scene of the battle and discovered the bear had been fighting to protect its two cubs.

He is now playing nursemaid to the two motherless bear cubs and is feeding them from the bottle.

Miners At Noranda Await Work Order Strike Settled

NORANDA, Que. (CP)—A back-to-the-mine order was awaited today by the 1,147 employees of Noranda Mines Ltd. after the 80-day-old strike which ended in a compromise on wage demands and a union defeat on the dues check-off issue.

No date for resumption of operations at Canada's largest gold and copper producer had been set when the strike ended sharp at midnight, 15 minutes after company and union representatives had signed an agreement terminating the 11-week shutdown.

The union accepted the company's last offer of 13 cents more an hour—against the 16 cents demanded by the strikers—and agreed to a company proposal that in lieu of a check-off union representatives should have facilities to interview new employees when they report to the plant dispensary for physical examination.

After the signing ceremony, James Y. Murdoch of Toronto, company president, shook hands with T. F. McGuire, district representative of the International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (C.I.O.), and H. L. Roscoe, vice-president and general manager of the mine, declared: "Now let's forget the past and get back to work."

Mr. McGuire, whose union has a membership of 597 among the plants 1,147 employees, said some detail in the agreement remained to be ironed out before the back-to-work order could be given.

Vancouver Gives Warrior Welcome

VANCOUVER (CP)—The first Canadian aircraft carrier to enter Vancouver Harbor, the 18,000-ton carrier Warrior was given a tumultuous welcome when she arrived here Sunday.

Traffic jammed the entrance to Stanley Park and automobiles were strung out for three miles, as citizens tried to get a glimpse of the first capital ship of the Royal Canadian Navy.

The local branch of the Navy League of Canada had arranged for launches to carry sightseers to the carrier, which will be opened for inspection tomorrow and Wednesday.

On Feb. 17, accompanied by the cruiser Uganda and the destroyer Crescent, the Warrior will go to Mexican waters for training exercises, then through the Panama Canal to Halifax.

2 Convicts At Large After Prison Break

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Three convicts had less than three hours' freedom early today after fleeing over a wall of the Holmesburg State Prison, but two other dangerous, long-term robbers remained at large.

It was the second mass escape attempted by the men in less than two years. On April 3, 1945, they tunneled out of the Eastern State Penitentiary with four others—and it took police almost a week to get them all back in custody.

This morning they overpowered guard William Skelton as he was making a routine pre-dawn check of the cell blocks. Warden Robert J. Beveridge reported.

Using a small knife and a wooden gun—Skelton was stabbed slightly in the hand—they obtained the keys to a prison storeroom and scaled the 20-foot wall with a stolen ladder, Beveridge said.

But an immediate police alarm put authorities on the alert and three of the men were picked up several miles from the prison as "suspicious" characters.

Recaptured without a struggle, though all were armed, were David Alkin, 51, Clarence Klindert, 40, and Spencer Waldren. Still at large were Willie Sutton, 46, and Frederick Tenuto, 37.

Minister Opposes Legal Sweepstakes

VANCOUVER (CP)—Rev. A. E. Cooke, at a Sunday evening forum at St. John's United Church here, condemned sweepstakes as a form of "legalized gambling" only a step from "legalized prostitution."

He decried attempts made by the Vancouver City Council and the provincial government to amend the Criminal Code to permit raising money for hospitals by lotteries, declaring "we would have a wide-open city, a vice-laden land."

He said legalizing raffles, lotteries and sweepstakes by either the city or the province would bring "moral insolvency—too high a price for financial solvency."

Saskatchewan Power Profit Reported

REGINA (CP)—A profit of $114,282 for the year ended last Dec. 31, the Saskatchewan Power Commission, a C.C.P. government corporation, nearly tripled its 1945 profit. Resources Minister Phelps said in a statement tabled in the Legislature this afternoon.

The commission ended the year with a surplus of $339,700. It was the first year it had shown an accumulated profit since 1929, Mr. Phelps said.

Up to last Dec. 31, the commission owned 2,651 miles of transmission lines serving 259 towns and villages.

Arbitrate Salaries Of Vancouver Teachers

VANCOUVER (CP)—Arbitration proceedings were in progress here today between the Vancouver Teachers' Council and the School Board over the teachers' demand for a salary increase of $400 for all teachers effective Jan. 1.

At the opening of the proceedings Saturday C. D. Evans, secretary of the Vancouver Teachers' Council, presented a 12-page brief supporting the teachers' demands.

He charged that present salaries paid teachers here failed to attract sufficient prospects. Teachers had not been accorded the same increases as other organized commodity groups. Vancouver salaries were lower than those paid in comparable metropolitan centres and the real wages of teachers had receded for the past seven years.

The arbitration board consists of chairman J. G. A. Hutcheson, Victor L. Dryer and Gordon W. Scott.

BLACK MONDAY IN BRITAIN

AS IF BRITAIN HAD NOT ENOUGH trouble, Mother Nature must add to it by going into one of her unusual tantrums. Atrocious weather for weeks past had piled up new discomforts on top of old and stoically-borne hardships. Blizzards and almost unprecedented snowfalls have followed in rapid succession. Industry in many parts of the country is at a standstill today. Transportation is paralyzed. Coal is not moving. Electric power is being generated on a short-common basis. Enforced idleness for between 4,000,000 and 6,000,000 workers means a serious halt in production. Nearly every branch of human effort in the economic sense is involved to a lesser or greater degree. The home market will suffer more directly first. Exports will dwindle proportionately. The latter circumstance needs no emphasis. Well may Britons call this "Black Monday." For the existing conditions affect everybody.

Mr. Attlee could not give the public much comfort when he discussed the situation in the House of Commons this afternoon; he was frank to admit that he did not know when matters would improve. Neither he nor any other human being can do much about the weather. Mark Twain reminded us of man's futility in this respect. Naturally enough the people of Britain already are trying to apportion the blame for low stocks of fuel to meet the vagaries of unpredictable elements. The Minister of Fuel is being assailed from right and left. "Shinwell Must Go" is a battle cry in some quarters. Mr. Churchill is reported to be considering the course which his Conservative opposition should take in Parliament. Mother Nature will be deaf, dumb, and blind to all political rhetoric. The prime requisites of the moment are an improvement in the weather, the mining of more coal—already showing signs of greater output per month than in 1946—and greater production all round.

Many communities in Canada and in numerous localities in the Western Hemisphere—not to mention continental Europe—in recent days have wondered what has happened to the weather. Even in this fair-weathered country, the weather has had legitimate cause to use the term unusual to describe for the benefit of visitors the freak spells of winter during the last two months. But these have merely subjected us to the mildest form of inconvenience in comparison with the climatic treatment which others have experienced. Scientists tell us that sunspots must be blamed for these meteorological phenomena. They ought to know. At the same time, the popular and uninstructed world will soon begin to wonder whether or not Mother Nature is getting a little bit of "her own back," showing her resentment at man's invasion of her private domain. She may be reminding us that the infinite was never intended for experiments with the atom bomb or other products of man's ingenuity.

WHAT OF AUSTRIA?

ONE OF THE IMPORTANT DECISIONS reached by the Foreign Ministers of the "Big Three" when they met in Moscow in the fall of 1945 was that Austria should emerge from the Second World War as an independent, sovereign, democratic state. It may be argued with every justification that this agreement between the major Allied powers at that time was intended to encourage a substantial anti-Nazi sentiment then manifesting itself in the former Hapsburg domain. But the sincerity of the conferees in the Russian capital was not open to question.

Circumstances attending the liberation of Austria, the arrival of Russian troops both east and west of the Danube, and subsequent Soviet policy since the Allied occupation of former enemy territory—all these developments have changed the political and economic scene. The recital of this sequence of events is thus intended to emphasize the difference between the background of a resolve taken in good faith more than three years ago and conditions as they exist in Austria today. It is this state of affairs with which deputies of the "Big Four" Foreign Ministers are now wrestling as they prepare the debating material for their superiors at the Moscow Conference next month. The question thus presenting itself, or so it will seem to the observer from afar, is what kind of democratic state can the former remnant of the old Austro-Hungarian Empire expect to be unless its territory of some 32,000 square miles is left free from the influence of the Kremlin.

This point is obviously important, because if the implication of the Moscow Declaration of 1943 is to be taken at its face value, it presupposes that the frontiers of the rejuvenated Austrian Republic will be substantially the same as they were in 1937; or, in other words, before Hitler's legions consumed the Anschluss in March, 1938. But territorial limitations or expansions will not mean much for the new state unless its future constitutional government remains unhampered by outside influence.

TRUTH VERSUS PROPAGANDA

ONE OF THE IMPORTANT POINTS emphasized by Secretary of State Marshall at his somewhat lengthy press conference in Washington on Friday was the intention of his department to "blanket the earth with truth in the midst of a riot of propaganda." Although the distinguished soldier-diplomat did not mention the Soviet Union by name, he announced that the first broadcast of news and other programs would be beamed to Russia next Monday.

From the tone and content of General Marshall's remarks it would appear that he is in a mood to reason with the Russians—to try to persuade them to unburden themselves of their real complaints against the so-called capitalistic-monopolistic democracies. In this apparent resolve he is rendering a service to the Soviet Union as well as to the rest of the world. And the Secretary of State is on sound ground, moreover, when he implies that the time has arrived for Marshall Stalin and his 13 colleagues of the Politburo to clarify the official and popular outlook of Russia toward general international business. For it must be patent, even to the most dyed-in-the-wool disciple of the Bolshevik type of totalitarianism, that if Russia is to persist in trying to impose her ideological concepts on peoples who will fight to the death to preserve their liberty of thought and action, the inevitable result will be physical conflict—the end of all decent government and civilization itself.

If the men in control of the Kremlin, who repeatedly declare that their sole object in life is a practical contribution to enduring peace, will facilitate the dissemination of the programs the Department of State at Washington proposes to beam to Russia, they will have gone a long way to implant in the minds of other people a belief in their oft-repeated protestations of peaceful intent.

ADVANCE IN B.C.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY DR. G. F. Strong, chief of the internal medicine staff of the Vancouver General Hospital, that surgery for children's congenital heart ailments—including those which create the condition causing "blue babies"—will soon be performed in British Columbia, comes as good news to this province. Two Victoria cases which have benefited from the delicate surgery performed in Johns Hopkins Hospital have focused attention on this particular disability and means of rectifying it. In each instance, remedial action has entailed major expense, and each has drawn attention to the fact that demands for the operation are so heavy that the staff in the eastern United States hospital is physically unable to accept all applicants. It is to be hoped that developments here will lead to similar facilities in other parts of the continent.

The forecast by Dr. Strong that facilities, human and material, are being assembled in Vancouver to carry on such work is gratifying. The announcement, moreover, might convince the medical profession of the value of relaxing to some degree its rigid conventions against publicity. An intelligent public is given too few opportunities to determine how, medicine and surgery are keeping abreast of the times in British Columbia. Greater dissemination of news on such subjects as that treated by Dr. Strong seems desirable.

IRRESPONSIBLE PARENTS

THE CASE FOR REDUCTION IN WHAT is commonly called juvenile delinquency has been set forth in broad outline again by Miss Bess Davis, Grays Harbor county juvenile officer, to a Washington State Legislature subcommittee considering two bills on the question. Miss Davis attacks irresponsible parents as the chief cause of this growing evil and says:

"What we need is someone to substitute for irresponsible parents affected by tension and speed of modern day living."

Miss Davis attributes much of current law violation by young people to an attempt to escape from a world of bewilderment into which they have been thrust by broken homes, separated parents, and misguided loyalties brought about by remarriages.

The concept is not new. But who is to substitute for the "irresponsible parents" in directing adolescents along the path to decency and proper citizenship? First responsibility in this field resides directly in the home. No other agency can fully take its place. When the household is not conducive to proper development, the foster-home offers an alternative, of course, but the very need for it proves the existence of conditions from which young and impressionable minds must carry an abiding disability.

Among the majority of families there is little necessity to emphasize the importance of providing a suitable environment for the growth of children. To those who are careless in this matter, the very material argument may be advanced that the grief and distress arising from neglect to the persons guilty of it far outbalances the transient pleasures they may secure from activities which usurp time that should be devoted to their offspring. Acceptance of that point of view could reduce the number of delinquents to the incorrigibles in both adult and juvenile categories.

Civil Liberties

By J. H. GRAY from Ottawa

ONE OF THE HEALTHY SIGNS IN OUR democracy has been the great resurgence of interest in civil liberties since the end of the war. During the war Canadians lived rather uneasily in an atmosphere of arbitrary rules and regulations. They recognized that many of these restrictions were necessary for the prosecution of the war. But they did not like them, nonetheless.

The end of the war was a signal for a drive not only to have full liberties of the citizens restored, but for some better method of guaranteeing the retention of these liberties through the years to come. The agitation has crystallized in a widespread demand for "A Canadian Bill of Rights."

CURIOUSLY ENOUGH, THE VARIOUS celebrated causes which furthered the agitation for a Bill of Rights have tended, somehow, to becloud the picture. Because the Espionage cases attracted national attention, some people have concentrated all their attention on the infringement of liberty by the national government. But some of the most serious threats of civil liberties have come from the provinces, even from municipalities. Thus, any approach to a bill of rights must take in the provincial governments as well as the Dominion government.

But if the discussion of civil liberties and a bill of rights is to be productive of ultimate good, two essential preliminary steps must be taken. We must decide what we want in the way of a bill of rights; and we must find and agree on a way to get it.

The fundamental freedoms are generally agreed upon. It should be the right of a Canadian citizen to enjoy the maximum possible measure of freedom of speech. It ought to be the right of every Canadian to enjoy the maximum possible measure of freedom of religion. The press of Canada should be free to report the news fairly and free to comment upon it. Every citizen should enjoy equality before law. The rights of all citizens to a fair trial by the courts of the land must be retained. Habeas corpus, the production of any one accused of any crime in court by the police must be safe guarded.

IT CAN BE SAID, OF COURSE, THAT Canadians generally have seldom had cause to complain against the infringements of any of these rights. But there have been enough violations of these rights to create uneasiness from which springs the agitation for a bill of rights.

There are, however, other fundamental rights, or rights which should be fundamental, which have been seriously restricted.

It should be the right of every adult Canadian citizen to vote for the election of his representatives not only in our parliament but in our provincial legislatures and school boards. Yet thousands of Canadians are denied these rights.

It ought to be the right of a Canadian citizen to move freely about his country and earn his living where he chooses. But in most of the provinces many of the trades and professions are closed to Canadians coming from other provinces. Some are closed by means of excessive fees demanded for admission to closed shop "professional societies" incorporated under provincial law. Others are closed by means of regulation of these societies.

IN THESE, AND IN MANY OTHER fields, there is a growing tendency in provincial practice to hive off from the courts more and more fields of enterprise and endeavor. In these cases a citizen who feels that any of his rights are being infringed is barred from taking his case to the courts. In almost every province there are regulatory boards with judicial powers whose edicts have all the force of law.

So the question which is posed for Canadians in regard to a bill of rights is this: How far do you want to go? If we are prepared to settle for a minimum, the difficulties may not be insuperable. But if we want to codify our liberties into a real bill of rights that will become the law of the land some very serious difficulties may be encountered.

Quoting

There is not equality in any country on God's earth. Perhaps it cannot be changed, for nature has not made us equal.—South Africa Prime Minister Jan Christiaan Smuts.

Here in America the child seems to govern the school, rather than the school authorities governing the child.—Miss Alice Elliot, English exchange teacher at Pueblo, Col., High School.

A month spent in outdoor life in an environment of rest and relaxation has greater restorative value as a vacation than any form of medical treatment.—Dr. Oscar A. Strauss, Chicago artery specialist.

We must see to it that the nations of the world do not play the fatal game of power politics with Germany and place her in the position where she can offer the might of Europe to the highest bidder.—Edwin W. Pauley.

Give me the money that has been spent in war and I will clothe every man, woman, and child in an attire of which kings and queens will be proud: I will build a schoolhouse in every alley over the whole earth. I will crown every hillside with a place of worship consecrated to the gospel of peace.—Charles Sumner.

He Was Bound To Run Into It Sooner Or Later

Optimism In British Mines

U.K. Information Office

THE FACT THAT there is now an acute coal shortage in Britain cannot be blamed on the miners. It is due in main to the three factors which are beyond their control: Unprecedentedly low stocks due to reduced war-time production, smaller labor force and—this third reason has a very bright side—the increased demand of Britain's Industries.

Nevertheless, despite the co-operation of the miners—and the government is confident that their support will become still stronger under the new system—the situation is serious. Output is still far below the demand. Although exports have been necessarily cut to a negligible amount, the National Coal Board—responsible for working the industry as from Jan. 1—not only has to solve this immediate problem. Its aim is to restore Britain's coal mines to a new permanent high level of prosperity. The task is a difficult one but the Board took control with one immense advantage: It was fully aware of all the difficulties entailed and had practical plans to overcome them.

One of the main problems which must be solved is that of manpower. Under Britain's policy of freedom of movement this won't be done by the direction of labor. Despite the acute shortage of manpower, no worker will be forced to work in the pits. The government has instead chosen a far more constructive approach, that of rebuilding the industry into one which will attract workers. Much has already been done in this direction. The plans for improved working conditions, better lighting and ventilation and better housing are under way. A five-day week will come into operation next spring.

TEMPORARY PHENOMENON

Accusations of absenteeism which have been deeply resented by miners, need not be taken seriously. They were in fact a temporary phenomenon, an extension of the Christmas holiday by one or two days. Furthermore it is significant that although January 1 had been set aside as a celebration for the coal industry, a large number of the miners declared their intention of working throughout the day to make up for the time missed in the Christmas week.

TECHNICAL DEVELOPMENT

The major item on the Board's program is that of technical development. This is a plan which, since it comprises virtually a complete reconstruction of the entire industry, could have only been carried out under the system of public ownership. When in March, 1945, the Reid Committee of mining experts published its report on industry, it was evident that if its plans for modernizing and mechanizing mines were to be put into effect, the whole industry would have to be reorganized. The central authority alone financial means entailed, and to ensure the most economic working of the industry as a whole. Thus the central authority of the National Coal Board will, for example, be able to make one surface plant serve groups of mines hitherto under diverse ownership. Large scale new sinkings can be undertaken, uneconomic mines sealed off and others completely closed down for the period of their reconstruction. New and improved systems of haulage will be introduced. At the face, machines will do more of the work. The United Kingdom miner of tomorrow will in fact be a mechanic, with hours and welfare and health amenities second to none. Recently, Mr. Lawther, President of the National Union of Mineworkers, declared that "no other miners in the world have better or brighter prospects than those in Britain."

LONG TERM

The government's reconstruction plans for Britain's coal industry are long term, and big results can not be expected for a considerable time. But the industry, with its reserves of several centuries of production, is itself essentially long-term. Difficulties of the transition period will be acute, but they will be well compensated for if this plan brings lasting prosperity to Britain's leading industry.

A Good Look At Canada

The Printed Word

AMONG SUITABLE MATTERS to moan and groan about might be added the passing of the wall map of Canada from Canadian homes. This passing has increased the obstacles to Canadians thinking of and understanding Canadians.

Canada is an inconvenient piece of geography to set down on a map, no matter what projection is used. The distance around Canada is about as far as around the world at the equator, and the shape of Canada is something like an extended accordion. Getting all this on a globe or on an atlas map usually leaves most place-names too small to read easily. Some of the folding maps are big enough, but only the very best citizens have the patience to unfold such maps and fold them up again more than once a year or so, and between times they get lost. A sectional map doesn't do the job. A wall map of Canada is the way to see all Canada at a glance, and often.

There is no use trying to hang a wall map in the living-room: the women won't permit it. Much might be said in favor of the bathroom, but here again opposition would be considerable. Bedrooms are less suitable for study and the trend in bedroom interior decorating is not towards wall maps. Any one with a library probably has wall maps or at least rolling maps, but libraries are even scarcer than homes. Possibly the only hope of Canadians' understanding Canadians through the greater use of maps of Canada is to fix maps on doors (there are still a few doors around) or for somebody to bring out good looking roller blinds or curtains with maps of Canada on them.

COURTESY

liberty Magazine Unfortunately the courtesy of other days has been submerged in the knowledge that if one customer doesn't buy, another will, and the salesman's necessary tally is assured. If one can judge from individual experience of salesmanship, as it might appear to be the pattern of our general thinking. But in the long look, this philosophy is as questionable as was the theology of the small boy who explained that they had family prayers in the evening rather than the morning hours because "we ain't afraid in the day time."

CLIPPED RANDOM

THOSE SUN SPOTS

Edmonton Bulletin

San Francisco had a snow storm, the first in 14 years. Vancouver people may rather welcome the news. It makes their own less conspicuous—and less liable to be remembered by inlanders when Vancouverites make unkind remarks about the prairie climate. . . . A couple of years ago scientists sent out warnings that they had been looking at the sun spots and foresaw strange things happening in the weather line over the next five years or so—it seems they knew what the spots meant all right!

WHAT'S IN A FLAG?

Ottawa Journal

There's something about a flag that transcends reason, judgment and common sense. Usually level-headed people, drop their mantles of logic when discussion turns to the flag. Those who rave at their dinner table and on the street-cars about income tax and price control seldom do anything about it—but these same people will sit for hours with reference books and crayons preparing flag designs. Anyone can design a flag, just as the average man thinks he could give clubs and spades to policemen, firemen, newspaper reporters and editors and beat them at their own game.

NOT A LOST ART

Edmonton Journal

A remarkable series of transactions is related by James Turner, of South Saanich: "I bought a horse for $10, improved its condition, and sold it to another man for $25. Needing a horse later, I bought it back for $50. Then the other fellow offered me $75 for it. Again I needed it badly so I paid him $100. Finally I sold the horse to a third party for $150. My friend, said, 'Why did you sell that horse to an outsider when we were making such a good living out of it?' Thus is provided heartening evidence that the old art of horse trading, which helped to build the West, has not been lost.

"BEST READING"

London (Ont.) Free Press

It is appropriate that an actor should regard the Bible as "best reading" for the great book is packed with drama, philosophy and wisdom. Speaking in Toronto, Donald Wolfitt, British Shakespearean actor, said that the English version of the Bible and Shakespeare were the two most important contributions made to the world by the English race between the years 1500 and 1620. English scholars of that time, he said, "were literally able to get drunk on words," which indeed they were.

AGREEABLE DELUSION

The Times of London

In a story of Kipling's a half-caste, clerk, ruling forms, observes "Do you know what would happen if I added or took away one single line on this sheet? It would disorganize the whole of the Treasury payments throughout the whole of the Presidency Circle! Think of that!" This agreeable delusion as to the importance of his own job doubtless keeps many a man happy and up to the mark—we may even be suffering from it ourselves.

Gift Of A Birthday

BBC London Letter

OVER fifty years ago, Robert Louis Stevenson learned that one of his friends had a small daughter who felt cheated because her birthday fell on Christmas Day and, consequently, she only received one set of presents for two such important occasions. So Stevenson immediately wrote offering to change birthdays and, since he was trained as a lawyer before he turned writer and poet, he put his letter into legal terms. Rose-Mary Sands, speaking in a recent BBC program quoted R. L. S.'s letter as follows: "A Deed of Gift of a Birthday. In consideration that Miss Annie H. Ide was born out of all reason upon Christmas Day and is, therefore, out of all justice, denied the consideration and profit of a proper birthday, and considering that I have attained an age when we never mention it, I now having no further use for a birthday of any description, have transferred and do hereby transfer all and whole my rights and privileges in the 13th day of November to the said Annie H. Ide to have, hold and exercise and enjoy the same in the customary manner by the sport of fine raiment, eating of rich meats and receipt of gifts, compliments and copies of verse, according to the manner of our ancestors." Annie, or rather Louisa, lives in New York now but she still celebrates her "gifted" birthday each year on November 13.

Wed Here Saturday, Reside In Alberta

Baskets of spring daffodils, narcissus and greenery, formed the setting at First United Church, Saturday at 8.30 for the ceremony which united in marriage Elizabeth Aiken Benzie Clancey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Myles, 1515 Morrison Street, and Hugh Johnston Knight, Mountain Park, Alta., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Knight, 1230 Rockland Avenue.

A floor-length gown of dusty pink jersey, silk, fashioned with cap sleeves, draped bodice and full skirt, was worn by the bride as she entered the church with her father. Long fitted gloves to match her gown and small pink hat with puffs of pink and turquoise veiling completed her costume. She carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and gardenias.

Miss Muriel Knight, the groom's sister, attended the bride. She chose a powder blue gown of crepe featuring low waistline, and cap sleeves. She wore gloves of matching crepe and small frilled cap of powder blue net. Her bouquet was of pink carnations and iris.

Harold A. Knight, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushering were William Hornbeck and Howard Leverington.

Rev. Hugh A. McLeod performed the ceremony. Miss Kathleen Drysdale sang "Through the Years" while the register was being signed.

Princess Charlotte Room at the Empress Hotel was the scene of the reception where mothers of the bride and groom assisted in welcoming guests. A three-tier cake was cut by the young couple and A. Blair Paterson proposed the bride's toast.

Rosalind Russell In Racy Comedy

Her lips said "No." Her arms said "Yes!" The racy story of a hard-to-please girl, a girl who lived and yearned... and a naughty imp with daring impulses, Columbia Pictures' new comedy starring Rosalind Russell and Lee Bowman, "She Wouldn't Say Yes," is currently playing at the Rio Theatre.

Adele Jergens, Charles Winninger, Harry Davenport and Sara Haden are featured.

'No Leave, No Love' Opens At Capitol

Teaming Van Johnson with Keenan Wynn, Britain's most popular screen heroine, Pat Kirkwood, M-G-M's new musical romance, "No Leave, No Love," opens at the Capitol Theatre to day with a galaxy of stars, songs and laughs.

Additional explosive ingredients include two famous dance bands—Guy Lombardo and Xavier Cugat's. Combined, the result is a swiftly-moving, tune-filled romantic comedy packed with action, laughs, beauty and fun.

The musical introduces the vivacious singing star Pat Kirkwood, who kept London laughing during the Nazi blitz.

DOMINION THEATRE

In addition to her film work, Gail Patrick has made for herself a highly successful career as a business woman. The brunette star, who appears currently on the Dominion Theatre screen with William Elliott and Vera Ralston in Republic's "Plainsman and the Lady," owns and operates a custom made clothing and toy shop for children in Beverly Hills.

VAN JOHNSON resists the blandishments of Britain's musical-comedy star, Pat Kirkwood, featured in "No Leave, No Love," at the Capitol Theatre.

'Scandal In Paris' Stars Carole Landis

There's enough of the bad in the best of us to thoroughly enjoy the high-handed goings-on in Arnold Pressburger's exciting new comedy-drama, "A Scandal in Paris," coming today to the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres through United Artists.

George Sanders, Signe Hasso and Carole Landis star in this fabulous story of a keen-witted rogue who stole hearts and diamonds impartially during the 19th century. Sanders breaks out of jail in the opening sequences with the help of Akim Tamiroff. Tamiroff plays the part of his sidekick, Emile, a knife-throwing rascal with a tendency to throw first and ask questions afterwards.

GENE LOCKHART AND CAROLE LANDIS appearing in "A Scandal in Paris," currently at the Plaza and Oak Bay Theatres.

Where To Go Tonight

(All Advertisers)
ATLAS—Dennis Morgan and Jack Carson in "Two Guys From Milwaukee."

CAPITOL—"No Leave, No Love," starring Van Johnson and Keenan Wynn.

DOMINION—William Elliott and Vera Ralston in "Plainsman and the Lady."

OAK BAY AND PLAZA—"A Scandal in Paris," starring George Sanders and Carole Landis.

RIO—Adele Jergens and Charles Winninger in "She Wouldn't Say Yes."

ROYAL—The Swiss mistress of monkeyshines, Trudi Schoop and her Comic Ballet.

YORK—"The Wicked Lady," starring Margaret Lockwood.

New Warner Comedy Showing At Atlas

In these hectic days of vanishing royalty in search of new jobs, the new Dennis Morgan-Jack Carson, Joan Leslie starring film, Warner Bros. "Two Guys From Milwaukee," which opens at the Atlas today, promises to be both timely and fun. The tale of a prince who gets a chance to learn about democracy in 24 inconspicuous hours, the film is a merry lesson in how to lose a throne and win friends and influence practically nobody in 90 minutes of cinematic fun and frolic.

'The Wicked Lady' Held Over At York

Starring James Mason and Margaret Lockwood, "The Wicked Lady," a picture that recaptures the romance and glamour 17th century England, is being held over at the York Theatre.

"The Wicked Lady" is the tale of a headstrong, unprincipled beauty. Authentic in detail, robust in theme, it is the screen version of the daring novel by Magdalen King-Hall.

Employers Urged To Consider Older Vets, National Problem

One of the most serious problems facing Ottawa's veterans department today is the urgent need of employment for 7,613 older veterans with service in either the first or second world conflicts or both, according to Rt. Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of Veterans' Affairs.

He warns that all of Canada stands to lose if a tendency among employers to regard men over 45 years of age as too old to hire persisted. Considerable progress had been made up to the present date from March, 1946, when 16,000 older veterans were unemployed or nearing discharge with no immediate job prospects, he said, but emphasized the pressing need to put the more than 7,000 still on the unemployment rolls in jobs.

"I speak particularly for the older veteran, but the veteran is not alone in encountering this employer attitude," Mr. Mackenzie said.

"Canada cannot afford the production loss of thousands of willing, able-bodied citizens over 45 just because they are in the older age bracket. We must not sentence these men to the more-destrorying breeding ground of unemployment," said the minister.

Veterans with service in both wars are hit particularly hard by the employer attitude, which Mr. Mackenzie said could not be justified on economic grounds. He urges employers to see that vacancies not requiring great skill or undue physical endeavor were reserved for older men.

WORKING OLDER MEN ASSET

"For younger men these may be dead-end jobs, but for older men they offer economic salvation which is a benefit to the whole community, including employers of labor," the minister said.

He referred to National Employment figures, which he said, indicated there was building up in Canada an unemployed age group because of the attempts to take young men for all age jobs.

Unemployment of men aged between 50 and 60 was increasing by the month, he said. "Veterans of Canada's wars now 50 and over have a valuable employment potential. They do not want state aid while they can work—and they are entitled to work."

Mr. Mackenzie labels as unfounded the notion there was undue economic risk in employing older veterans. "Many employers, they prefer middle-aged and older workers on jobs where quality, experience and judgment are more important than speed. They find that older workers are apt to be more stable than younger men, and so labor turnover is reduced," Mr. Mackenzie said.

He warns that much remains to be done in providing older veterans with work. "With two major wars in our time, Canada will face a problem of older veteran employment requirements within the next 30 or 40 years."

He points out there is a social responsibility for all and urges employers to examine every single position that becomes vacant in his establishment to see whether it cannot be filled by someone from these older groups of veterans. By applying to the National Employment Service local office, employers could have positions filled from downman to office executive, the Minister of Veterans' Affairs said.

Oppose Immigration, Vote For Asiatics

The Saanich Progressive Conservative Association is forwarding to G. R. Pearkes, Nanaimo M.P., resolutions opposing the opening of Canada's immigration doors to Asiatics and opposing the granting of the franchise to persons of Far Eastern origin.

"We unequivocally oppose any such move to bring more Asiatics to Canada and do all in our power to reduce the present Asiatic population," said the resolution, having noted that the Liberal government had announced its intention to introduce legislation to permit the lifting of the present regulations governing the entry of Chinese to Canada and permitting the entry of Chinese women and children.

"We on the Pacific coast of British Columbia have only during the last few years been free from the menace of another Oriental group, namely, the Japanese," the resolution said.

The association also suggested that a provincial immigration quota should be fixed but confined to Asiatics.

The association reported 55 per cent of the 30,713 male and 3,914 female Chinese in Canada were living in B.C.

"Data shows that in the eastern provinces, compared with their population the Chinese number is a matter of small importance or in other words they, the eastern provinces, know nothing of the matter and do not realize what a catastrophe it means for British Columbia, especially in our cities," Arthur Frayne, acting secretary, reported.

Legislature Will Debate Many Contentious Matters

The second session of the 21st annual session of the British Columbia Legislative Assembly will open in a renovated legislative chamber here Tuesday afternoon at 3 p.m. Some of the most contentious legislation in years.

Revision of the provincial liquor laws to provide for cocktail bars in the first class hotels in Victoria and Vancouver, and revision of the Provincial Elections Act to extend the franchise, have already been indicated as matters of considerable discussion.

Legislation to start putting British Columbia forest operations on a sustained yield basis, to implement the findings of the Goldenberg Royal Commission on provincial-municipal relations

CONTENTIOUS ISSUES

Many of the contentious issues to come before the 48 members of the Legislative Assembly this year have stimulated fiery debate on previous occasions and since last session have been the topics of investigation.

Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer, who took over the reins of that department during the last session following the death of Attorney-General R. L. Maltland, at the last session, promised an investigation of Liquor Act reform.

It is understood his program is to maintain the present controls of beer parlors but following the lead of Ontario the B.C. government will experiment with cocktail bars in first class hotels in the two largest cities.

Liquor has always been a topic of spirited debate in the provincial Parliament, and it is expected considerable opposition to Mr. Wismer's plan will be voiced from some members. "Dry" forces throughout the province are already organizing in opposition to his hinted proposals.

The government in drafting revision of the Provincial Elections Act will have as a guide the report of a special committee set up at the last session of the House. This committee during the year has held hearings and studied the answers to a questionnaire submitted to various organizations throughout the province.

This principle, scored by its opponents as regimentation and backed by its proponents as the only way to secure a full expression of public opinion, if adopted, will have its first try-out in Canada in British Columbia.

Piloting amendments to the Provincial Elections Act or a new elections act through the House will be the duty of Provincial Secretary George S. Pearson.

Following the submission of the Sloan Royal Commission's report on the forest resources of the province to the government last year, sustained yield of forest operations in B.C. has been fully discussed by the lands and forests department and the industry.

On the shoulders of the Lands and Forests Minister E. T. Kenney will fall the responsibility of presenting this legislation to the House.

A new deal for municipalities will be written in legislation to adopt the recommendations of the Goldenberg Royal Commission on provincial-municipal relations. This legislation will be largely prepared by the municipal affairs department and presented to the House by Municipal Affairs Minister R. C. MacDonald, who, at the forthcoming session will occupy a ministerial desk in the House for the first time.

The Dominion-provincial tax agreement, a five-year plan whereby the province will lease to the Dominion government the income and corporation tax fields, will provide the provincial government with revenue estimated in excess of $2,000,000 annually.

This larger revenue and expansion of other revenue sources of the province make it a certainty that the budget Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb will present to the House will be the largest in the history of the province, exceeding the $50,000,000 mark.

Some changes in the School Act, extensively amended at the last session of the Legislature to implement the findings of the Cameron commission on educational finance, are expected.

While materials and machinery for road building are in short supply, Works Minister E. C. plans for a huge road building and rebuilding program.

United Soccer Team In 3rd Straight Tie

Victoria United soccer team is back to its old tricks. After opening the second half of the Coast League schedule with a victory the United has drawn three successive engagements. Saturday the locals played to a stalemate with North Shore 1 to 1 before one of the largest crowds of the season. United's play in the first half schedule was marked by its unusual number of tie fixtures.

In the words of Charlie Faulkner, equipment man of the local team: "This club plays more draws than any other I have ever been associated with."

North Shore did well to finish with a draw as the Reds were forced to play for 60 minutes with only 10 men. At the 30-minute mark George Steele, Shores centre-forward, talked back to Referee George Barnes and was waved to the showers. Playing one man short did not seem to hamper the visitors a great deal, especially in the second half when they had a definite edge on the play. Outstanding for the Reds was the veteran Trevor Harvey at right half. His defensive work was brilliant and several times he nearly broke through for a goal.

WEAK DEFENSIVELY

The United showed a lot of dash in the first half but appeared disorganized in the final 45 minutes. The fact that they were playing 10 men seemed to upset the local back division and several times loose work and weak clearing nearly cost a goal. The work of Bobby Moss, goalie for the United, and Stan Laycock in the opposite net, was outstanding.

Shortly after Steele left the field North Shore took the lead. Taking a long pass on the left wing, Zielski fed a perfect cross to right-winger Gortie, left uncovered in front of the Victoria goal, and he flipped the ball into the corner. On the return rush from the kickoff Victoria tied the score, centre-forward Tommy Bruce finishing off a play with Murray Speller and Ab Travis by hitting the ball over Laycock's head into the empty net.

Just before half-time Laycock made two great saves from Travis and Shubbrook while at the other end fullback Ken Bruce blocked a bullet ground shot from the boot of Harvey.

Although neither club scored in the second half Shores had the best chance when Zielski was in the clear and, with only Moss

In an all-Chinese doubles final, Stan and Charlie Ngai defeated their younger brothers Art and Eddie in five sets. Art and Eddie, captured the junior doubles from Garth Corke and Eric Goodwin, in straight sets.

Garth Corke played well to win the senior B singles from Doug Robinson. Eddie Ngai won his second title when he defeated Jack Seedhouse in the junior singles final.

Ruth Payne and Eric Walker scored on easy victory over Barbara Mackay and Stan Ngai to retain their mixed doubles crown.

Ted Bailey Wins Skeet Trophy In Close Competition

Ted Bailey and veteran marksman Ernie D. Todd were in the spotlight in Sunday's clay-pigeon shoot on the Albert Head Road shooting grounds of the Victoria Gun Club when they engaged in a close marksmanship duel on the skeet ranges in which Bailey emerged the silverware holder by a whisker.

Todd was in effect the defending champion in this two-cornered race. He had possession of the Dr. A. D. Bechtel Trophy for making the longest straight run of "killing" skeet targets last year with a record of 30 without a miss.

Both displayed an eye skill in marksmanship yesterday and it was not until the closing stages of the fight that the cup holder was decided. The final score showed Bailey had cracked 40 straight, and Todd was a single point behind him.

Bailey will retain possession of the prized trophy now until some member can better his accomplishment.

In the trap competitions the team of Russ Horton, vice-president, and Wallace McMillan took the laurels in the backer-upper event, while H. Pottinger was the miss-and-out winner. The two best scores of the day on the traps were registered by Roger Monteith, secretary, and Boley. Both posted 24s.

In the younger ranks, T. Paliser was a featured artist with the scattergun. On his first time out to tackle the clays, he posted a 22.

INTERMEDIATE SOCCER

Third place Bellingham opens a two-game series in Yakima tonight and follows it up with a single game in Vancouver Wednesday evening—a three-game arrangement which could pilot the Firecrackers into the runner-up spot if successful. Vancouver will tackle Portland Saturday in the Rose City.

The latter five amasses its largest point total of the year yesterday in turning back Yakima Ramblers, 75 to 48, with Big John Mandie bucketing 25 points. Vancouver smashed the hapless Spokane Blazers, 37 to 33, in the only other Sunday game.

'Y' Swim Stars Lay Claim For 6 Canadian Records

Six Canadian swim marks fell by the board on Saturday night as Archie McKinnon's Flying "Y" splash artists took to the water at the "Y" pool and slashed existing Canadian and American-held marks.

Eric Jubb, flashy junior, cracked the 40 and 100-yard junior backstroke records, bettering the old marks of 22.9 and 1.06. Jubb's times for the distances were 21.6 and 1.05 respectively. Jubb then combined with Bill Turkington and Pete Salmon in the 160-yard medley to equal the Canadian mark of 1:17 and better the native Canadian record of 1:17.4.

Peter Salmon clipped 7:10 of a second off the American-held Canadian mark of 1:04.8 in the 100-yard breaststroke and bettered the native-born mark of 1:05 by 9:10 of a second. Salmon's new mark is 1:04.1.

Bowden, Salmon and Nelson equaled the American-held mark of 1:03.8 for the 120-yard senior medley relay, which is at least three seconds better than the Canadian-owned mark.

Joan Morgan added further laurels for the "Y" when she swam the 200-yard backstroke in 2:43.4 to crack the previous record by a second.

Application for recognition of the new records will be made to the British Columbia section of the C.A.S.A. Further trials are slated for Wednesday night.

Dominoes, Eaglettes Drop Exhibition Tilts

Dominoes and Eaglettes, Victoria hoop teams who traveled to Port Angeles and Vancouver, respectively, over the week-end returned home suffering from a pair of defeats at the hands of Seattle Alpine Dairy and the Nut House girls team of Vancouver.

Playing without the services of Busher Jackson, Rookie Wright and Duncan Lee, the Canadian champion Dominoes were no match for the powerful Alpines and took a 38 to 14 drubbing.

Eaglettes put up a good game against the Canadian champion Nut House team in the first-half at Vancouver but tired badly in the second 20 minutes and dropped a 26 to 16 verdict.

Chicago, Detroit Win Major Hockey Battles

With the Stanley Cup playoffs just around the corner, the six National Hockey League clubs are forcing for secure playoff berths. The two last-place clubs, Chicago and Detroit, proved last night that they still have plenty of fight left in them as they chalked up victories.

The Hawks, aided by a 20-year-old rookie net-minder, Emile (The Cat) Francis who replaced Paul Bibeault, outdistanced Boston Bruins 6 to 4, while in Detroit the weary Red Wings who stumbled 4 to 3 to Canadiens Saturday night, took the ice, a rejuvenated crew, and dooped the New York Rangers, 5 to 2 last night in the motor city. Toronto Maple Leafs continued to fight to stay in the race for the league pennant as Boston Bruins were clawed 5 to 2 in the Canadian city Saturday night.

COWLEY TIES MARK

Boston's veteran Bill Cowley became an eligible member of hockey's Hall of Fame by scoring two assists against Hawks to bring his life time point total to 572, tying the all-time N.H.L. scoring record held by Syd Howe, former Red Wing, now with Tommy Gorman's Ottawa Senators in the Quebec Senior Hockey League.

Max Bentley of Hawks climbed within seven points of Maurice Richard, the point-leader. Doug Bentley, brother of Max, tallied two assists for Hawks as he gained ground in the scoring race.

Montreal Canadiens, who hold a six-point lead over Leafs for first place in the standings, missed the services of their crack pivot-man Elmer Lach, who was injured Thursday night in a game with Leafs, as their punch line failed to score a point against Detroit. Lach, who was replaced by Buddy O'Connor, is in hospital with a fractured skull received after a collision with Don Metz. It is unlikely that Lach will return to action in major league hockey again.

Chicago fans received young Emile Francis with open arms as he turned in a brilliant performance before the Hawks' pipes and fanned only four Boston shots. The rookie was nervous but proved he was N.H.L. calibre as 19,526 fans cheered him on. Francis formerly played with Regina Capitals in the Western Canada League.

Slugging Hank Greenberg Will Hang Up Ball Spikes

NEW YORK (AP)—Hank Greenberg virtually closed out his brilliant baseball playing career Sunday with an announcement that he had informed Pittsburgh Pirates that he "was considering retirement from the active playing ranks."

Although he did not say flatly that he was quitting the diamond as a player, the big, hard-hitting ace, who was recently sold to Pittsburgh by Detroit Tigers, intimated as much when he said that he did "not desire to start anew in a strange environment."

The 36-year-old veteran issued the statement at a press conference at about the same time that Frank McKinney, president of the Pirates, announced in Pittsburgh that Greenberg "had wavered on the matter of returning to a playing part in baseball this year as a member of the Pittsburgh club."

OFFERED MORE MONEY
Both Greenberg and McKinney emphasized that money had nothing to do with the star player's announcement. Greenberg said the Pirates offered him more money than he ever received in Detroit.

The first-sacker and outfielder, who led the American League in home runs and runs batted in four times in his 11-season Detroit career, received a salary of $55,000 from Detroit last year plus a $20,000 bonus when he was waived out of the junior circuit and sold to Pittsburgh for a sum believed to be $40,000.

McKinney, greatly disappointed in the strange turn of events, said Greenberg "wants it understood that if he should later decide to play he will not play for any club other than Pittsburgh."

Victoria-Nanaimo Squad May Play Intercity Boxla

Returning from the annual meeting of the B.C. Lacrosse Association meeting in Vancouver over the week-end, Doug Fletcher, past-president, announced that a formal application will be made to the Intercity Box Lacrosse Association for a Victoria-Nanaimo franchise in the league. The meeting will be taken up by the Intercity league at its annual meeting early in March.

New Westminster Adanacs have been granted permission to transfer to Seattle this season and will play the majority of their home games in the Civic Auditorium on Sunday nights.

It was also decided that an all-star junior club will travel east this season and will play under the colors of the B.C. championship club.

W. G. Easterbrook was elected president for the ensuing year, other officers follow: Doug Fletcher, first vice-president; Archie McDonald, second vice-president; Gordie Ezart, third vice-president; J. H. McClean, treasurer, and H. L. Delmonico, registrar. Ed Popham of Victoria was named to the executive.

Fletcher reported that the annual meeting of the Greater Victoria Box Lacrosse Association will be held Wednesday night at the Public Schools Club. Election of officers will be held and all teams are asked to have delegates present.

Varsity Smothers Vancouver Lions

VANCOUVER (CP)—University of British Columbia Thunderbirds Saturday served notice that they will be the fifteen to beat as they opened their defence of the McKee Cup by trouncing the Vancouver Lions, 34 to 2.

The Collegians started scoring right from the start with John Winters and Russ Latham crossing the Lions line to give them a 6 to 0 lead at the interval.

A wild second-half scoring spurge completely submerged the losing club, whose only try came on a fake kick by Harry Winters.

Lions travel to Victoria next Saturday to meet the Victoria Crimson Tide.

Russ Latham, former Victoria Rep, scored 12 points for Varsity.

Victoria College Lifts Hoop Title; Brentwood Wins

One city basketball title was decided Saturday night as Victoria College turned on a powerful second half drive to defeat Army, Navy, and Air Force Vets 29 to 20 to take the third and deciding game of the best-of-three senior C series. Clarkson's failed in their bid for the senior B crown in straight games as Brentwood Aces prolonged the series with a 56 to 51 decision. Third and deciding game of the senior B final will be played to night, starting at 9.

In the preliminary game, Oak Bay A.C. took a four-point lead over Fairbridge Farm School in the first game of their home-and-home total-point series of the lower island junior playdowns, defeating the visitors 29 to 25.

Brentwood Aces, led by Billy Turner, started quickly in their playoff game with Clarkson's and had built up a six-point margin at the quarter. They again outscored Clarkson's in the second quarter and led 26 to 18 at the half.

Clarkson's put on a terrific rally in the latter stages of the fourth quarter to drop 19 points through "the hoop, but Brentwood's lead which at one time had reached 14 points was too much to overcome. Turner, with 21 points, took scoring honors for the winners and diminutive Billy Duncan of Clarkson's tallying 19.

GREAT RALLY

A third quarter uprising in which they tallied 17 points without a return highlighted the College victory over the Vets. Down 13 to 9 at the half, the Collegians came out full of fight in the second half and outplayed the taller Vets to jump into a 26 to 13 lead. Vets closed the margin to nine points in a rather scramble fourth quarter but could not catch the inspired College five. Speedy Jim Cairnie led the students in the scoring parade with 17 points.

Rangy Jim Field was the shining light in Oak Bay's win over Fairbridge, garnering 20 of his teams 29 points.

Vancouver Canucks Suffer Third Loss

Vancouver's slumping Canucks failed in two attempts to pull even with New Westminster in the Pacific Coast Hockey League's northern division during the week-end.

After going down to the tail-end Tacoma Rockets in Tacoma, Saturday, 8 to 5, the Canucks suffered their third straight loss in Portland, Sunday, bowing 7 to 3 to the section-leading Portland Eagles.

Meanwhile, Seattle Ironmen boosted their second-place lead over the idle New Westminster sextette to six points by hanging a 9 to 0 lacing on Tacoma Rockets.

Porky Oliver Wins

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Rotund Ed (Porky) Oliver of Wilmington, Del., hitting the comeback trail after five years in the army, won the 21st Texas open golf championship Sunday with a 72-hole total of 265, edging Jimmy Demaret from Ojai, Calif., by a stroke.

Oliver tamed Brackenridge Park's 6,400-yard par 71 course with a blistering 64 in the final round, while Demaret came in with a 67.

Harry Todd, Dallas, Tex., professional and 36-hole leader, faded during yesterday's morning round, using 71 strokes, but came back in the afternoon with a three-under-par 68 to take down third money with a 72-hole total of 268.

Jockey Club Favors Tattooing Horses

NEW YORK (AP)—As a means of preventing "ringer" cases, the Jockey Club (New York) racing's leading control body, today recommended the lip-tattooing method for identification of race horses and suggested that all thoroughbreds be marked in this manner.

The lip-tattoo method was developed by the army remount service. Under the system, an identifying number is permanently and irremovably marked inside the horse's lip, thereby preventing substitution of a "ringer."

Bill Waller Wins

In the Victoria Motorcycle Club's "scramble" competition for novice riders held at Mount Douglas Park Sunday, Bill Waller was the winner with 21 points lost. Tony Bonell finished second with 30 points lost and Les Blow third with 31 points minus.

The event was for riders who had never won a prize in a reliability competition and attracted an entry list of 20. Twelve other competitors, other than the first three, finished, while two dropped out.

With perfect weather conditions the contests were ideal.

Thieves Get $810 In Cash, Bonds From City Home

Of several homes and business houses entered over the week-end in the city, thieves got the best haul from the residence of George Andrews, 1048 Collinson Street, in the form of $810 in cash and bonds, city police reported today.

Mr. Andrews told police his home was entered between 3:45 and 11:05 Sunday afternoon and evening. Entry was gained by smashing a window in the door on the back veranda and then breaking the glass in the kitchen door.

Drawers were ransacked, a locked club bag in a closet cut open and a cash box in the same place forced open. Cash stolen totaled $360. Value of the bonds was $450, issued between 1941 and 1944. In addition, four linen handkerchiefs were taken.

Sixty rounds of .45 automatic Colt ammunition and a .22 calibre rifle were stolen by thieves who broke into Bernard's sporting goods store, 1410 Douglas Street. Entrance was gained by the fire-escape at the rear. A window was taken out and the bars forced back.

A cedar shrub was taken from the front garden of Mrs. A. Turner, 2222 Richmond Avenue, during the last few days, she reported to police.

Entry was gained at Stevenson's Cafe, 725 Yates Street, and the dance hall at 804 Fort Street during the week-end, but up to today the police had not learned what, if anything, was missing. B.C. Police reported that Baul's Drug Store at Sidney was entered. It was believed the thieves were after drugs, but found none. They stole two cartons of cigarettes, two boxes of cigars and two used fountain pens.

Theft of cash from milk bottles and milk bottles full and empty were contained in reports to the police by E. G. Reynolds, 2668 Cedar Hill Road, and G. C. Rigby, 1120 Richardson Street. It is believed thieves who were trying to force the rear kitchen door of Cliff McVaine's house at 920 Collinson Street, were scared off.

Jail For 2 Sailors

Two navy men, Frederick G. Morrish and Clarence Johnson, were given hard labor jail sentences by Magistrate Henry C. Hall when they appeared in city police court today to receive judgment on charges they pleaded guilty to last week.

Morrish pleaded guilty to uttering a false cheque and for theft of a ring over the value of $25 and was sentenced to six months in jail on each count, to run concurrently. Johnson pleaded guilty to cashing the cheque Morrish uttered knowing the same to have been a forgery and was given a three-month jail sentence.

Service Will Suffer If Library Quarters Not Enlarged Soon

Unless something is done to provide more adequate quarters for Victoria's public library, the service given to the public is going to rapidly deteriorate, the Library Board stated in its annual report to the City Council, signed by M. E. Godson, chairman; Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, Sandham Graves, J. F. K. English and S. J. Willis.

In the report it was emphasized that the inadequacy of the present building has been stressed for years. The building was erected in 1906, the report continued, when the population of Greater Victoria was 20,816, and was considered capable of housing 15,000 volumes. Now, in 1946, with a population of 101,000, the building is expected to house 74,043 volumes, as well as numerous other files.

Speaking of the reference department, which now houses three times as many volumes as in 1927, the board declared: "The contrast between the reference reading of our library and that of even small libraries in eastern Canada is humiliating." There are now 44 seats in the reference department for the reading public, when it is recommended by competent authorities that 303 seats should be available for a population the size of Greater Victoria.

The board is considering ways to temporarily relieve the overcrowded conditions, and the City Council will be asked for a supplementary grant with which to do the work this year. Warning was given, however, "that such alterations and additions will provide purely temporary relief and that a new building is inevitable in the near future."

Veteran Mariner Dies Aboard Ship

After serving aboard ships on this coast for 46 years, William Allan, chief engineer of the Vancouver Barge and Transportation Lt. tug Island Mariner, dropped dead as the vessel was putting into Cowichan Bay Sunday.

The body was left at Cowichan Bay and is being shipped to Victoria by way of Duncan. Mr. Allan, who was born in Scotland, had sailed a number of years on the Dominion quarantine vessel Madge. Before joining the Madge, he was engineer aboard the salvage Queen, of the Pacific Salvage Co. Ltd., who had the Island Mariner before she was purchased by Vancouver Barge.

He leaves his widow at home, two daughters, Mrs. Flora Webber, Victoria, and Mrs. Mary Sangster, Sidney; and three sons, John and Frank of Victoria, and George, who lives in Quebec.

Provincial Aid Will Not Mean Cut In Victoria 1947 Mill Rate

There is no intention of cutting the mill rate for the waterworks, a new library or a new fire hall. He could see no hopes of having a lower mill rate for some years to come.

Ald. R. A. C. Dewar and Ald. F. G. Mulliner concurred that the money should not be considered in setting the mill rate. They favored taking at least part of the waterworks revenue from the general fund and placed into a depreciation fund to take care of waterworks maintenance and replacement of worn out mains. Another suggestion advanced by Ald. Dewar, which would make for a more business-like administration of city affairs in his opinion, was that proceeds from sale of reverted lands should be used to decrease the city's debt, instead of going into general revenue.

Mayor George immediately turned down any suggestion that the extra funds which will come from the provincial government should be placed in general revenue to have an effect on the mill rate. "In making our presentation to the Goldenberg Commission, we made it plain that if we were able to get more funds from the provincial government, that money would go into added services and public works for our people, not to keep the mill rate down," he pointed out.

He stressed that Victoria had needed works more than enough to take up even the most optimistic estimate of the funds forthcoming. He also said that when the mill rate was raised five mills in 1945, his idea was to try and stabilize it at the 42 mill figure for some years to gain extra funds for needed works and maintenance.

Ald. Williams said, in his opinion, the extra money to come from the province should be used only for what he termed extraordinary expenditures and not for any type of maintenance or repair work which the city would have had to finance regardless. The type of project to which the extra funds should go, he cited, include the replacement of Pt. Ellice Bridge, the school building program, the new city

Fashion Models From Britain Eager To Remain In Canada

Miss Phyllis Baxendale of Victoria College, will speak in the place of Dr. J. M. Ewing, who was scheduled to address the members of the Little Centre Feb. 20.

A man who was charged in city police court this morning with "being an Indian and intoxicated in a public place," said he was a white man, not an Indian. The charge was reversed to make it read that way. Result was his fine was jumped to $25 or, in default, five days in jail. The usual fine for an Indian is $10 or three days in jail.

These lovely girls who came to sell Canadian goods on new British fashions, have ended up by having Canada sold to them. In a collective interview at the Empress Hotel today the girls were unanimous in their praise of Canada and those who do not want to live here are at least determined to make another visit as soon as possible.

The girls are Margaret Mullins, Jane Lynch, Morna Howard, Valerie Cox, Georgie Clifford and Margaret Allworthy. Accompanied by Mrs. Norah Sherlock, commentator, chaperone and general tour manageress, they will put on a week's fashion show here under the sponsorship of the Hudson's Bay Company.

With rare courage and after two years of struggle, she taught herself to walk again. Now, one would never know what she had gone through. She lip-reads and carries on a conversation with ease.

However, modeling and courage are not Miss Mullins' only strong points. She is taking up writing as well and has already written and sold stories since her arrival in Canada.

Youngest of the girls is 17½-year-old Valerie Cox, who has blue eyes and ash-blond hair. She has made rapid progress in her modeling career. In July, 1946, she was at school in a convent in her native Newcastle-on-Tyne, but her life was changed when she was persuaded to model in a "Junior Miss" fashion show in a local store. She then went to the Lucie Clayton school in London and had only been there a few weeks when she was picked to make the present fashion tour.

She says she loves the country, here and has no desire to go back to England. So far as men are concerned, the journey has gone by without much trouble. The girls received the occasional telephone call, but did not accept unless they knew who the person was, she said.

Galway-born Jane Lynch, who left the stage and film work to model, is returning to the stage when she returns to England. With the blue eyes and dark brown hair of the real Irish beauty, 22-year-old Miss Lynch was first on the Irish stage. She began modeling about six months ago.

Miss Lynch likes Canadian women and the way they dress. "They all look so healthy and vivacious," she said. Georgie Clifford, age 20, started modeling over a year ago and loves her work, but admits she wants to get married. Whether or not she will continue modeling after that will depend on her husband's attitude, she said.

Modeling is more fun than work, according to Miss Clifford, who does not class modeling as work. But even though she likes it, she shows all the instincts of a housewife and spent some time this morning in verbal admin-

Town Topics

The by-law governing the hours of business of gasoline service stations will be effective Feb. 15, M. F. Hunter, city clerk, said today.

Ronald E. Campbell was sentenced to 15 days in jail when he appeared before Magistrate Henry Hall in city police court this morning to receive sentence on a charge of theft of a horn under the value of $25.

John G. Gardner, 846 Esquimalt Road, was fined $35 and had his driver's license suspended for one month when he was found guilty in city police court this morning on a charge of dangerous driving on the evening of Jan. 17 before Magistrate Henry Hall.

The Appeal Court dismissed today the appeal against conviction of Edison Alexander Dilts, a wild horse dealer of Ferlie, who was found guilty by an Assize Court jury of obtaining credit from a bank under false pretence, and sentenced to one year imprisonment.

Monthly meeting of the Burns Club will be held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium Thursday evening at 8. Capt. D. J. Proudfoot will talk on "Travels in the Highlands of Scotland." Also taking part will be Arthur Stringer and James Matheson as well as other artists.

City police suspended dragging operations Sunday for the body of a First Great War veteran who is believed to have taken his life in the waters near Point Ellice Bridge. Clothing of the veteran who is missing from Gordon Head convalescent hospital, was found on the bridge last week.

The Standard Furniture Company has written Mayor Percy George asking that Daylight Saving Time be instituted again in 1947. The letter said that the staff had voted 100 per cent in favor of daylight saving, preferring it to be instituted on federal or provincial scale, but if the two senior governments would not act, on a municipal scale.

tion of Canada's homes and their well-equipped kitchens. Margaret Allworthy, who is 18, first went to Lucie Clayton's nearly two years ago and has been busy modeling since, although she has a serious desire to act.

She looks on her present modeling trip as a holiday and says she is enjoying it as much as possible. She is the only redhead in the group and has the handsome combination of blue eyes and red-gold hair.

Absent this morning was 23-year-old Morna Howard, who has been visiting friends near here. Miss Howard was born in Hongkong, the daughter of a British army officer. Although modeling now, she was originally trained as an architect.

Mrs. Sherlock, who is accompanying the girls, started her career also as a model. In her association with Lucie Clayton, she seeks out the glamorous for modeling does nearly everything else connected with the profession, including presentation of fashion shows.

Circulation Down For Fiction At Public Library

Circulation of fiction from the Victoria Public Library decreased by 6 per cent during 1946 from 1945, according to the annual report issued by the Library Board today, although there was an 18 per cent increase in the number of people registering as borrowers during the year.

Every day the library was open 30 people registered, and of these 27 were new registrants. Circulation of fiction is still 45 per cent of the total, non-fiction 33 per cent, and juvenile 21 per cent. Reasons given for the decrease in circulation were because the library was closed 13 days in August for redecoration, and complete records of loans from schools were not kept.

Total stock of books for adult circulation now stands at 51,653, and for juvenile circulation 13,619. The increase in books over 1945 is 3 per cent.

At the end of the year there were 28,812 borrowers registered with the library, 20,483 from the city, 2080 from Oak Bay, 4,985 from Saanich, 1,045 from Esquimalt and the remainder from the Normal School, or non-residents.

Expenditures for the year were $61,502, of which $39,776 was paid by the city of Victoria, $8,249 by Oak Bay, $9,871 by Saanich and $2,023 by Esquimalt.

Mrs. A. Tait Dies

Mrs. Amanda Tait, aged about 45 years, 50 Howe Street, passed away in the city Sunday evening. According to the city police report, a phone call was received at the station at 9:35 Sunday evening that a woman in a car on Dallas Road was in a collapsed condition.

A patrol car was sent out and the officers identified the collapsed woman as Mrs. Tait and rushed her to hospital where life was pronounced extinct.

Ottawa Asked to Reopen Esquimalt Lagoon Road

The Dominion government is being asked by the Saanich Progressive Conservative Association to reopen the Esquimalt Lagoon Road to the general public.

The road was closed during the winter because the road had not been reopened.

Island Rifle Club Names New Officers

The Vancouver Island Rifle and Gun Club, with headquarters on the Sooke Road, recently elected a new slate of officers to operate the unit in the ensuing 12 months.

They follow: Joe Poirier, president; Cecil Burgess, vice-president; Bob Richardson, manager; Bill Lucas, secretary-treasurer; Fred Pitt, Alex Murray and Jack Whyte, directors. J. Young was named honorary president and Royce Oakes honorary vice-president.

Social committee head is Mrs. Elsie Poirier. Jack Roach was returned chairman of the range committee, which will arrange the 1947 program.

The accent on this year's program will be placed on youth. The officers of the club will concentrate on teaching youngsters the fine points of use of firearms and how to take care of themselves in the hinterland. Roach can be reached at E 0272 for details on the youth program. On completion of the youth training scheme, the club will stage rifle competitions. A 60 by 24-foot extension to the existing clubhouse is planned.

Wilcox, Sask., College Destroyed By Fire

WILCOX, Sask. (CP)—Palmas, a two-story wooden structure, cradle of 19-year-old Notre Dame College of this prairie town, 30 miles south of Regina, was destroyed by fire Saturday while more than 200 students struggled in a blizzard for three hours to save the building.

After lifting two fire engines over a deep drift to bring them close to the building, students sang their college song when all hope failed of saving it. Damage to the 40-year-old building, insured for $2,500, was not estimated.
